Passengers can choose to purchase a physical card or an e-card through Gogo's website at www.gogoair.com in increments of $30, $60 or $100, which would give 2, 4 or 8 connectivity sessions respectively.

"The Gogo Gift Card makes a perfect gift for your friends or family who travel," said Ash ElDifrawi, Gogo's chief marketing officer. "Gogo will help keep them connected and productive in air; whether that's staying in touch with friends and family on the ground through email or social media, shopping online for last minute holiday gifts or catching up on work."

In addition to Gogo Gift Cards, Gogo is also offering passengers discounts on connectivity services for the holiday season called Gogo Holiday JetPacks. If you are traveling this holiday season, you can save more than 50 percent of the cost of in-air Wi-Fi by purchasing one of two JetPacks: The Holiday 3-Pack, which includes three Gogo All-Day Passes, and the Reindeer 2-Pack, which includes two passes. JetPacks can be purchased through Gogo's website before you fly at www.gogoair.com.

Gogo in-air connectivity services can now be found on more than 1,600 commercial aircraft including all domestic mainline Delta Air Lines and nearly all of Delta's regional jets; all AirTran Airways and Virgin America flights; and select Air Canada, Alaska Airlines, American Airlines, Frontier Airlines, United Airlines, and US Airways flights. Gogo Gift Cards and JetPacks can be used on any Wi-Fi enabled laptop, tablet or mobile device.
