

Gogo Teams with Samsung to Provide One Year of In-flight Internet Access With Purchase of Galaxy Note Pro and Tab Pro Products

March 24, 2014

ITASCA, Ill., March 24, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Gogo (NASDAQ: GOGO), the leading provider of in-flight communications services to the global aviation industry, announced today that it will join forces with Samsung to offer a full year (up to 36 flights) of Gogo Inflight Internet access with the purchase of any of the following Samsung tablets:

- Samsung Galaxy Note Pro 12.2
- Samsung Galaxy Tab Pro 12.2
- Samsung Galaxy Tab Pro 10.1
- Samsung Galaxy Tab Pro 8.4

Accessing the free sessions is easy: passengers simply launch their Internet browsers on any Gogo equipped flight and they will automatically be directed to a special landing page that will grant them Internet access.

"While traveling at 30,000 feet, tablets are great tools for staying productive in-flight," says Ash EIDifrawi, Gogo's chief commercial officer. "We know that the number of passengers using tablets in-flight to connect through Gogo is a growing segment and that tablets today make up 34 percent of the devices using the service. Now those passengers who have purchased a Samsung Pro series tablet can access Gogo for free for a year on up to 36 flights."

To promote this, Gogo will be launching a contest through social media on March 25, 2014 with the chance to win a Samsung Pro series tablet. Enter for your chance to win at www.facebook.com/gogo
