Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On March 6, 2016, Gogo LLC (“Gogo”), a wholly owned subsidiary of Gogo Inc. (the “Company”), and Intelsat Corporation (“Intelsat”) entered into an agreement for capacity on several current and future satellites that will be part of Intelsat’s global network (the “Agreement”). Pursuant to the Agreement, Intelsat will provide, and Gogo will purchase, Ku-band satellite capacity for use with Gogo’s 2Ku and Ku in-flight connectivity systems. Gogo has contracted for widebeam and spotbeam capacity providing coverage over Africa, Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and portions of the Caribbean, Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. In addition, Gogo agreed to purchase from Intelsat capacity on the OneWeb satellite constellation, a low earth orbit satellite constellation expected to be in service in 2019, subject to certain conditions and availability.

The Intelsat satellite capacity will initially include use of traditional wide beam services on specified satellites as well as spot beam services on specified high throughput satellites that are expected to enter service beginning in 2016. The Agreement sets out monthly fees for the Intelsat satellite service capacity and provides that prices for the OneWeb capacity will be negotiated by the parties. Under the Agreement, Gogo’s obligations to purchase Intelsat satellite capacity expire December 31, 2023, unless earlier terminated in accordance with the Agreement. The specifications, service level agreements and other details of the Inmarsat and OneWeb services will be set forth in statements of work or separate agreements to be agreed upon by the parties.

The description of the Agreement contained herein does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Agreement that will be filed as an exhibit to the Company’s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ending March 31, 2016.

Forward-Looking Statements

This report contains “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that are based on management’s beliefs and assumptions and on information currently available to management. Most forward-looking statements contain words that identify them as forward-looking, such as “anticipates,” “believes,” “continues,” “could,” “seeks,” “estimates,” “expects,” “intends,” “may,” “plans,” “potential,” “predicts,” “projects,” “should,” “will,” “would or similar expressions and the negatives of those terms that relate to future events. Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the Company’s actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any projected results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements represent the beliefs and assumptions of the Company only as of the date of this report and the Company undertakes no obligation to update or revise publicly any such forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. The Company cannot assure you that the assumptions made in preparing any of the forward-looking statements will prove accurate or that any long-term financial or operational goals and targets will be realized. In particular, the availability and performance of the satellite service capacity to be provided pursuant to the Agreement as set forth in this report may be not realized, and there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to provide connectivity service to aircraft that fully utilize such satellite capacity. For a discussion of some of the important factors that could cause the Company’s results to differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, the forward-looking statements included in this report, investors should refer to the disclosure contained under the headings “Risk Factors” and “Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements” in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on February 25, 2016.
